Claims 1-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 1, lines 14 and 16, the recitation of the "friction connection" should be preceded by "first" and "second", respectively, for clarity, so as to differentiate therebetween. Subsequently, the recitation in line 19 of the "friction connection" should be preceded by "said first", for clarity.

Claim 2 lacks definite antecedent basis for "the at least one horizontal..axis".

In claim 4, the term "film hinge" should be structurally defined.

Claim 5 lacks antecedent basis for "the first and second partial segments".

Claim 7 lacks antecedent basis for "the edge".

Claim 8 lacks antecedent basis for "the first friction connection".

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-3,5,6,8 and 9, so far as definite, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Clough ('846).

Figures 1-11 show structure as claimed, including a headrest comprised of an first 40 and second 42 partial segments of a first section that are pivotal about generally vertically oriented axes to a second section 30, which in turn is pivoted about a horizontal axis 34 to a retaining device 22. The pivoted elements are secured by friction hinges and locked in place thereby. Note that the various hinges provide protruding portions which form "guide members" as claimed.

Claims 4,7 and 10 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Ochiai, Reikeras et al, O'Conner et al and Bartels show various features of the invention.
